Kia ora Julie,

This afternoon our station support officer at the Taupō Police station was provided with an 'Event Security Plan' by members of the 'Stop Co-Governance' administration, with the expectation that the agreement would be signed or endorsed by the Police.

I have phoned the person who's details were provided to contact, a [REDACTED]. I did so as there were some statements in the plan which pertain to the Police and their perceived role in the proposed plan. These points in the plan related to elements that the Police had apparently "taken charge of" – namely the approval of numbers of security staff, and a point in the plan which referred to whether or not the Police would have staff on site during the meeting. I have very clearly explained to [REDACTED] that Police will not be endorsing or signing the plan, and that it was matter for 'Stop Co-Governance' administration to deal directly with the TDC as the venue provider. Following the decision made by the TDC around the event, we will then plan for any Police response if required.

I have advised [REDACTED] that I would forward the plan on to you. The plan is attached for your consideration.

During the conversation when asked how many people the group were expecting [REDACTED] advised me that the group had 4,000 flyers produced for the event, but that not all of the flyers had been distributed.

I look forward to hearing from you.
